Mass tort and class action: plaintiff representation – antitrust

Labaton Sucharow LLP's antitrust practice has been developing strongly over the last few years, and a core of five partners now devote a substantial part of their time to antitrust work, with wide support available in the firm. To date, the firm claims that the antitrust litigation team has recovered more than $1.5bn on behalf of its clients in major antitrust class actions nationwide. The group was strengthened by the recruitment of Jay Himes, the former Antitrust Bureau Chief in the New York Attorney General's office, as partner and co-chair of the practice group, in late 2008. The firm appeared as co-lead counsel in several of the cases referred to, including In re Puerto Rican Cabotage Antitrust, with Heins Mills & Olson, PLC, and In re Air Cargo Shipping Services Antitrust, the Lufthansa matter, with Hausfeld LLP. Hollis Salzman acted as the principal attorney in each of these instructions. Bernard Persky led the work for the firm as co-lead counsel on In re Parcel Tankers Antitrust Litigation; Stolt-Nielsen SA v. Animal Feeds International, a precedent case concerning a mandatory arbitration clause which was silent as to the possibility of a class action, which reached the Supreme Court in the fall of 2009.
